

Premia Risk Disclaimer

You should be aware that the risk of loss in trading or holding derivatives or cryptoassets can be very high.

You should carefully consider whether trading or holding derivatives or cryptoassets is suitable for your financial position and investment objectives. As with any asset, the value of cryptoassets can go up or down and there can be a substantial risk that you lose all your money buying, selling, holding, or investing in cryptoassets or derivatives on cryptoassets. Therefore, you should not invest money that you cannot afford to lose. You should seek advice from a financial advisor if you are unclear of any matters. Premia does not provide any investment, legal or tax advice and does not assume any liability to third parties with respect to the provision of advice or your transactions in and in connection with Premia Options. You should ensure that your activities relating to Premia Options comply with all applicable legal and regulatory requirements and restrictions. By carrying out transactions in or in connection with Premia Options you warrant that you are authorised to enter into the relevant transactions and that you are acting in compliance with applicable law and regulation.

Premia or any of its affiliated companies including Defy Network Services Limited (the "Companies") do not participate in nor are counterparties to transactions in Premia Options. Moreover, the Companies do not provide any intermediary services in relation to such transactions and, specifically, does not act as broker, advisor, exchange, trading venue, clearer or custodian for any party. All transactions in or in connection with Premia Options are carried out on a peer-to-pool basis using smart contracts. This means that parties to the relevant transactions deal directly with each other without Premia's or the Companies' involvement. Accordingly, the activities relating to the Premia Options are not subject to any regulatory licences, permissions or authorisations. Any transactions in or in connection with Premia Options will not be within the scope of any investor compensation scheme or any complaints or ombudsman service.
